What is a cultivated internship?
A cultivated internship is created specifically for UW-Madison undergraduate students by IIP. These internships are listed in red on IIP’s database. Many internships require enrollment in the Worldwide Internship Program (WIP) for academic credit.

Worldwide Internship Program (WIP)
WIP allows students to earn academic credit toward their degree and remain enrolled at UW-Madison during an internship abroad. Cultivated internships are pre-approved for credit via WIP and many may require it.

Cultivated internship deadlines:
Spring internships: early October
Summer or Fall internships: mid February

WIP Grant deadlines:
Spring internships: early October
Summer or Fall internships: early March

Is the Worldwide Internship Program (WIP) required for these internships?
Usually yes! See each internship post for more information.

What are the benefits of the Worldwide Internship Program?
WIP allows you to remain continuously enrolled at UW-Madison during your internship. Enrollment gives you access to scholarships, UW-Madison’s international health insurance and additional campus resources (ex: IAP’s 24/7 emergency support, your @wisc.edu email address, spot for course enrollment). The WIP course (International Studies (IS) 523) may fulfill certain degree requirements as well.

Do I need to apply separately for credit/WIP?
NO! These internships are pre-approved for credit.

What are my funding options?
IIP offers several grants/scholarship (including the need-based WIP Travel Grant) towards the costs of enrolling in WIP. Enrollment in WIP also makes you eligible for IAP scholarships and other campus and national scholarships. See our Funding Page (go.wisc.edu/iip-funding) or Scholarships@UW for more information. Keep in mind some internships may also provide funding.

I don’t have an internship offer yet. Can I still apply for scholarships?
YES! Many campus offices, including IIP and IAP, can’t extend scholarship deadlines. You can always withdraw your scholarship application at no penalty if the internship doesn’t work out.

What degree requirements does the IS 523 course cover?
This depends on your major/certificate! In some cases, these courses can fulfill specific or general degree requirements. The courses will be on your transcript and count towards your GPA. Talk to IIP and your academic advisor!

Can I graduate abroad?
Enrolled students can graduate abroad with prior approval from their academic departments. Like other study abroad programs IS 523 counts as UW in-residence credits.

Can I take another internship course (ex: Inter L&S 260, Gen Bus 450/451) for my internship abroad?
In most cases no. These courses are designed for internships in the US and don’t have the international health insurance/working abroad component built into them. Always check with IIP and your academic advisor!

What is the course content of IS 523?
The IS 523 course focuses on internship reflection and working in a cross-cultural setting abroad. There are weekly reading assignments, field notes and discussions, professional development activities and a final project. The courses are online, 8-10 weeks long and completed during the internship. The workload is comparable to a 1 or 3 credit course on campus.

How does directed/independent study work?
In addition to the 1 or 3 credit IS 523 course, you can add 1-3 credits of a directed/independent study. You must set up this course with a UW-Madison faculty member on your own. Don’t enroll in Student Center. Simply submit the relevant form to IAP and they will process the directed/independent study.

What do IIP and IAP do for WIP students?
IIP staff help the student identify internship opportunities, advise students on a variety of questions surrounding internships abroad (ex: visas, housing and application procedures) and are in close contact with the student and internship supervisor before, during and after the internship via email, phone and Skype check-ins. IAP handles course processing, international health insurance, billing and 24/7 emergency support.
